Hi Avi,

I'm President Trump's appointed U.S. Ambassador to El Salvador and I wanted to share this with POTUS and Jared, if you could please assist, I would be grateful.

Just prior to the US election, President Nayib Bukele of the Republic of El Salvador, delivered the painting below to my residence at the U.S. Embassy. We now have it packed up and ready to ship to President Trump, along with a personal letter from President Bukele. I just need to know where to ship it. If you can provide an address that would be a big help.

President Bukele contracted the same Salvadoran artist who completed his portrait for the Presidential House here. It took the artist 6-months to complete the painting, and the attention to detail is absolutely amazing (see some close-up examples below).

Best regards

Ron Johnson
